Help Us Shape Our New Website

As part of the next evolution of the DHI brand, we are launching a new version of our website this autumn. We invite our network to participate in stakeholder testing to help shape the final version of the website before its launch.

Testing will occur between July 16 and 23, during which you will receive a private link to the site, along with a few questions and a feedback form. Your feedback will directly influence the final touches, ensuring we deliver the best possible user experience!
